EXAMPLES OF HOW THE NEW BANNER GAME WORKS:

1. A club has 95 visitors at their dance:
   - Club one: 24 paying dancers
   - Club two: 18 paying dancers, needs to retrieve their banner.
   - Club three: 16 paying dancers
   - Clubs four through seven: 8 or more paying dancers but less than 16

   Club one with 24 gets the banner outright. Club two retrieves their banner with 8 and has 10 eligible dancers left. All the clubs that have 8 eligible dancers or more, excluding the club who got the banner outright, would go into the bucket for a drawing. The host club would draw at least one from the bucket (in front of the dancers when the banners are presented) and the club(s) drawn would take home a banner.

2. A club has 24 visitors at their dance:
   - Club one: 16 paying dancers
   - Club two: 8 paying dancers

   Club one with 16 gets the banner outright. Club two would be placed in the bucket for a drawing. The host club would draw from the bucket (in front of the dancers when the banners are presented) and the only club in the bucket would be drawn and would take home a banner.

3. A club has 25 visitors at their dance:
   - Club one: 17 paying dancers, needs to retrieve their banner.
   - Club two: 8 paying dancers

   Club one retrieves their banner with 8 and has 9 eligible dancers left so the club would be placed in the bucket for the drawing. Club two, with 8 dancers, would also be placed in the bucket for a drawing. The host club would draw from the bucket (in front of the dancers when the banners are presented) and the club drawn would take home a banner. The host club could draw two clubs out of the bucket and both clubs would take home a banner.

4. A club has 29 visitors at their dance:
   - Club one: 12 paying dancers
   - Club two: 9 paying dancers
   - Club three: 8 paying dancers

   All three Clubs would be placed in the bucket for a drawing. The club(s) drawn from the bucket (in front of the dancers when the banners are presented) would take home a banner.

5. A club has an Anniversary Dance and has 240 visitors.
   - Club one through six: 8 to 14 paying dancers, all need to retrieve their banner
   - Club seven: 20 paying dancers, needs to retrieve their banner
   - Club eight: 36 paying dancers
   - Club nine: 28 paying dancers
   - Club ten: 16 paying dancers

   Club eight with 36 gets the banner outright. Clubs one through six would retrieve their banner. Club seven would retrieve their banner and have 12 eligible dancers left. Clubs seven, nine, and ten would all be placed in the bucket. The host club would draw from the bucket (in front of the dancers when the banners are presented) and the club(s) drawn would take home the banner.
